Whenever a creative impulse stirs the mind
From slumber, the animating spark that resides
Within is free to convey the turbulent nature
That springs from a repression of thoughts
And feelings: that which emerges from the Focused efforts of imagination bearing the Fruit of quite struggles: whatever form a Dream takes embodies the essence of Inspiration, breathing life into a myriad of Authentic forms; the undertaking born
Of a heartfelt desire to convey the subtle
Nature of a world that ever so rarely sees
The light of day; providing an outlet for the Unspoken word to manifest free from the Invisible shackles of social conformity.